Samantha Rosas

Hello, my name is Samantha Rosas and I am a visual media design student. I am taking this class to get my associate of arts degree in graphic design to later on transfer and further my education and obtain a bachelors degree.

In my Raster project I created an image of a girl that is supposed to be me holding a dead plant. I like creating things based on current life events and that is definitely one of them. With my love of plants sometimes that love kills them because I overwater them to death. I thought it would be a funny way of portraying that.

OOH OOH AAH AAH

In my Vector project I created a monkey and I was inspired by my hand sanitizer that has a cute little bunny. I just recreated it with my own design elements and instead of using a bunny I used a monkey simply because they are awesome.

In my Motion project I decided to continue the story of the monkey. The background that I chose in my vector image inspired me to make the story about the monkey chillin' on the beach and eating a banana. I wanted to make the monkey walk to the banana but I don't have the skill set, yet, and I was running out of time so I decided to have him swing.
